

It does not make sense to require associations to require permission of their members to send them faxes. Membership in an association signifies an established business relationship, and associations should be allowed to communicate with their members by fax without bureaucratic interference. This is an onerous regulation that is both ill-considered, and harmful to business. Please rescind this regulation.